REACTION OF PRICES

Average Level in Stock Market Receded to That of Mon-- day Night.

ARE NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS

An Important Banking Failure in Bremen-Was Contributing Factor to Weakness.

(By Associated Press.),

NEW YORK, Fob. 10.—The average level of prices in the stock market got bees to about where it was Mondy night. That is to say that the recovery of yesterday was lost. There was no new development to account for the reaction, but the c. was some recurrent force to the considerations which weakened the market on Alonday. The principal factor in checking the advance was the distrust left as to the character of the operations, which carried frices upwards yesterday. This was emphasized by the very plant profit taking in United States Sich preferred on the part of a prominent trader, and the very acvious manipulative tactes by which it was sought to offset this by bidding up a few speciaties here and there. The action of yesterday's market gave rise to a surmise amongst the great the profit of the trader, and the comment that the financial markets might be expected to sympathize with apparess success in the course of the war, but to-day's market failed to bear out that surmise, as prices record on the additional news of Russian lores. The real repressive influence seems to be the fear of excessive corporation borrowings and the extra tequirements in-

The real repressive influence seems to be the fear of excessive corporation berrowings and the extra tiquirements involved in the Baltimore fire by los es, the consequent necessary extension of credits and the Panama Canal payment. Humors of a sale of New York Central neces to meet improvement expenses illustrated in that stock the sensitiveness of the market to the effect of borrowings. A rumor of coming issue of St. Paul stock, which was officially disclammed, was a factor in the weakness of that the cke The heavy offerings of Pennsylvanis on the slight early advance created a b.d impression.

The sharp rise in Brooklyn Transit and in Amalgamated Copper divided influence with the weakness of United States Steel preferred for a time, but weakness steel preferred for a time, but weakness gained on the whole market, and the closing way at nearly the lowest. An important harking failure in Bremen was a contributing factor to the weakness.

COTTON MARKET STEADY. Fluctuations Furnish Scalpers

With Chances for Operation.

With Chances for Operation.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—The cotton market was steady with nervousness apparent only at times. Fluctustions work wide enough to furnish scalper with many chances for operation, which they took readily, indicating that the danger of any further wide breaks was over at least in the minds of this class of traders. At the opening the market declined from 30 to 45 points, under the close of yesterday and they were, at the close of yesterday and from 74 to 64 points higher than the lowest levels of the day.

Liverpool cables were rather discouraging and this caused the lower opening. The market showed surprising powers of absorption and all selling orders were quickly placed at momentary declines. Twice prices were sant down 20 points, but quick railies followed each break and sent prices higher than ever. At the close the tone was steady.

ON CANAL

Opposes Ratification of Treaty With Panama on Highest of Planes. (By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.-In the exec utive session of the Senate to-day Senator Daniel spoke in opposition to the ratification of the Panama canal treaty, He was answered briefly by Senators Fairbanks and Spoofier.

Senator Danie's remarks were on the highest plane. He did not criticise the highest plane. He did not criticise the administration for anything which had transpired on the isthmus, but did advise that the government, accept the Nicaraguan route as the only one for which title can be secured without national dishonor. He was congratulated warmly by senators on both sides of the chamber for the character of his speech. The question of having printed for the benefit of the Senate the speeches which are made on the canal question in execu tive session was decided in the negative.

In Open Session.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The major port on of the time of the Senate in open session to-day was devoted to a speech by Mr. McCumber on the Panama canal question. # PRESIDENT MAY ATTEND

Wants to Make Visit to Virginia and to be at Sewell's Point at Celebration May 13th.

INTERESTED IN EXPOSITION

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.-President Rodsevelt said to-day that while dent Roosevek said to-day that while he could not say positively that he would attend the colobration at Sowell's Point, near Norfolk, on May 13th, the anniversary of the binding of the English at Jamestown in 1607, he was very desirous of doing so, and would take the matter under advisement, and communicate his decision later. He said that the importance of celebrating the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of the first Anglo-Saxon settlement in the new anniversary of the founding of the first Anglo-Saxon settlement in the new wor's, as is proposed by the Jamestown Exposition Company, had impressed him deeply, and he hoped the enterprise would meet with all possible success.

The President was walled on this morning by a delegation from the Exposition Company, and nearly at the Virginia delegation in Congress and the two senators. He was most cordial in his mannar towards the Virginians, and expressed a deep deer to attend the celebration at Norfolk in May.

The representatives of the company, who called on the President, were Gen-towards the Virginians, and expressed a deep desire to attend the celebration at Norfolk in May.

The representatives of the company, who called on the President, were General Fitzhugh Lee, president, Gwynn T. Shepherd, secretary; S. Gordon Cumming, J. Taylor Ellyson, Park Agnew, George Bowden, Hugh Gordon Miller, R. T. Thorp and Postmaster, Reed, of Newport News. The party was with the President for twenty minutes, and was deeply impressed with the interest which he manifested in the Exposition in 1807. It is thought he will attend.

It is the plan to have him go to Norfolk on the Mayflower, and after making an address at Sewel's Point, proceed up the river to Jamestown, and thence drive across the country or ride horseback seven miles to Williamsburg, the ancient capital of Virginia, and thence thriteen miles to Yorktown, where Cornwalls surrendered at the destruction of British power in what is now the United States of America. At Yorktown the President wif find a vessel waiting to convey him back to Washinston.

"The object of this interview this morning. Mr. President" hald General Lee, "Is to ask that we be allowed to briefly direct your thoughts to historic Jameslown, Va., the e add of the British haby who has grown into an American giant, whose possessions stratch from the lakes at the North to and, into the guilland from the Atlantic Oran on the East to 1800 or the British haby who has grown into an American giant, whose possessions stratch from the lakes at the North to and, into the guilland from the Atlantic Oran on the Bast to 1800 or the British haby who has grown into an American giant, whose possessions stratch from the Jamesleic occan, passed into a land-lock that for or the Atlantic Oran on the Bast to 1800 or the British hand and with the fact that had they at any time a and-lock that had they at any time a and-lock their attent, at a colonization and returned to their former home, the impacts of the history of his series of the British and and with the fact that had they at any time a anione
